

List of Authorised Ticket Resellers

Ashgabat 2017 International Ticket Sales commence on 17 March 2017 via Authorised Ticket Resellers (ATRs) in their territories and Turkmen travel agencies only. There will be no online ticket sales available on the official Ashgabat 2017 website. Starting from Summer 2017 tickets might be purchased in multiple box offices in Ashgabat.

All ATRs will identify themselves through the use of the official Ashgabat 2017 Authorised Ticket Reseller logo. In accordance with rules set out by Ashgabat 2017, all ATRs must:

- State the territory in which they have been appointed to sell tickets;
- Apply a fair and justifiable exchange rate;
- Post the Ashgabat 2017 ticket prices (at face value) in New Turkmenistan Manats on their website;

- Post Ashgabat 2017 terms and conditions of ticket purchase and spectator rules on their website and communicate clearly to all ticket purchasers;
- Provide all customers with general information about Ashgabat 2017 including where to source the latest travel information.

If you do not find your country listed here, it means that your country's National Olympic Committee has not yet finalized its arrangements to offer tickets in your country. As Ashgabat 2017's list of agents is continually updated, please check back in future to see if an appointment has been made. Ashgabat 2017 is committed to ensuring people in all countries have the opportunity to buy tickets for the 5 AIMAG Games. If no agent is provided by April 2017, Ashgabat 2017 will offer a solution to enable you to buy tickets.
